Breeder Referral Guidelines

Updated July 2013

1. The purpose of the JCCA Breeder Referral Committee is to provide the public with a list of JCCA member breeders in their geographical area via the JCCA website.
2. The JCCA Board will appoint the Chairperson. The Chairperson may appoint committee members, but due to the low number of inquiries, committee members may not be required.
3. The Chairperson will be responsible for submitting a quarterly report of statistics regarding Breeder Referral inquiries to the CCC editor for publication.
4. This standardized e-mail response and disclaimer will be sent to each inquiry, along with a list of breeders who are JCCA members who have signed the club's Code of Ethics and have requested to be listed in Breeder Referral Inquiry replies:

Hello,

Thank you for your inquiry about Japanese Chin.

When talking with breeders, keep in mind that even a six-month-old Chin is still VERY much a baby. They stay babies much longer than most other breeds of dogs. Therefore, if you are interested in getting a puppy, please consider that a Chin under one year of age is still a puppy. You might also want to contact JCCARE, which is a wonderful rescue organization that will have adult Chin and/or young dogs. Check out their website for their history and photos of dogs available for adoption:

The following is a list of breeders who are members of the Japanese Chin Club of America and are in good standing with the club.

They have signed and pledged to uphold the Club's Code of Ethics and have requested to be listed herein. However, the JCCA has no ability to supervise, investigate or otherwise verify that the Code is upheld. The Breeder Referral List is provided for the sole purpose of reference for those searching for a Japanese Chin dog or puppy. The Club and its officers and directors make no endorsement of any person on this list. Under no circumstances does the JCCA recommend or guarantee the dogs of any listed breeder, nor does the Club assume any responsibility or liability for the health, quality, or temperament of any dog, nor for other representations, either expressed or implied, made by any JCCA member who is listed in this Breeder Referral. It is further understood that any contract entered into by a buyer and any of the breeders on this List is between the buyer(s) and seller(s), as individuals, and the JCCA is not a party thereto nor responsible for the terms contained in any of said contracts
